Dear Sir/Madam:

I am taking this opportunity to write a letter of reference, praising both the paint job and the quality of young men selected and hired by your company.

First the job. My wife and I are extremely pleased with the outcome. The paint matched our existing colors, returning our home to its original luster. Throughout the week our friends, neighbors and passersby noted the sign, which we had agreed to have placed on our front lawn, and commented about both the quality of the job and the clean, fresh look of our home.

Second, I wish to praise J. Hunter Hough, the Branch Manager, and his three-person painting team. Hunter, for a young college student, is a very bright, energetic and capable young man. He clearly is able to meet and solicit work from homeowners and uses his leadership and management skills to train and work with the individuals assigned and/or hired by him.

The "painters" themselves were a delight. Apparently they are on a special government approved student international exchange program. I found them to be extremely courteous, hardworking and competent workers. While their knowledge of English was limited, each worked diligently to carry out his assigned duties. Hunter introduced new skills, helped them to perfect them and praised their accomplishments. And the young men responded, taking pride in their work and the skills learned throughout. I enjoyed the opportunity to meet and share a few minutes with each of them.

I found Hunter Hough's personality, combined with his leadership, management and people skills, to be worthy of my acknowledgement, hence my decision to write this unsolicited reference.

Sincerely,
