

College Works Painting Reference Letter
Neil C. Clements, Jr. M.D.
June F. Clements, M.D.

This is on behalf of Meg Boatwright, who served as the Operator of College Works Painting, the company that just completed repainting our home.

June 8, 2004

To whom it may concern:

This is on behalf of Meg Boatwright, who served as the Operator of College Works Painting, the company that just completed repainting our home.

Meg was extremely professional, friendly, and competent in both selling the proposal that College Works Painting do our home, and in seeing that the job was done quickly and well, once we agreed to the terms. She came to our door with an offer, and was so organized in her presentation that decision-making was easy on our part. She was patient through some indecision on our part regarding color choices.

We were happy with the quality of work, especially the pre-painting preparation. Her painters were hard workers, who finished the job quicker than I thought was possible. She was there at the end of each working day to check up on the progress made.

We were thoroughly impressed, and would certainly use her (and College Works Painting) again in the future.

Neil C. Clements, Jr. M.D.
June F. Clements, M.D.

June 8, 2004

To whom it may concern:

This is on behalf of Meg Boatwright, who served as the Operator of College Works Painting, the company that just completed repainting our home.

Meg was extremely professional, friendly, and competent in both selling the proposal that College Works Painting do our home, and in seeing that the job was done quickly and well, once we agreed to the terms. She came to our door with an offer, and was so organized in her presentation that decision-making was easy on our part. She was patient through some indecision on our part regarding color choices.

We were happy with the quality of work, especially the pre-painting preparation. Her painters were hard workers, who finished the job quicker than I thought was possible. She was there at the end of each working day to check up on the progress made.

We were thoroughly impressed, and would certainly use her (and College Works Painting) again in the future.

Neil C. Clements, Jr. M.D.
June F. Clements, M.D.