

College Works Painting Reference

Linda Thomas

My husband and I recently hired College Works Painting for an exterior trim painting job. We were pleased with the result and very impressed with the company and project manager, Chris Hamilton.

Dear Potential Clients of College Works Paintings,

My husband and I recently hired College Works Painting for an exterior trim painting job. We were pleased with the result and very impressed with the company and project manager, Chris Hamilton.

Our project involved repainting the trim on our two-story, craftsman style home. Chris was extremely diligent and professional throughout the project.

Chris was an effective communicator. He called each day to say when he'd be at our house to do the work. He was extremely punctual and always on time. He stayed focused on the project and took only a few breaks. As each day wrapped up, we walked around the house and he showed me the work that had been completed for the day. If there were any problems, he would not them down and resolve them immediately.

The quality of Chris' work is outstanding. The final product looks amazing and I know it is going to last. Chris power washed the area before starting, and then he caulked gaps in the wood, and prepped the surface by scragging, sanding and priming the areas with failing paint.

Chris was a joy to work with. He had a strong work ethic and was very polite and friendly. He was always smiling, despite a rainy month that made his painting job extra challenging.

We've hired a lot of people to work on our house. Without a doubt, Chris Hamilton was the best worker and kindest person to have around.

Hire him!

Sincerely,

Linda Thomas

Dear Potential Clients of College Works Painting,

My husband and I recently hired College Works Painting for an exterior trim painting job. We were pleased with the result and very impressed with the company and project manager, Chris Hamilton.

Our project involved repainting the trim on our two-story, craftsman style home. Chris was extremely diligent and professional throughout the project.

Chris was an effective communicator. He called each day to say when he'd be at our house to do the work. He was extremely punctual and always on time. He stayed focused on the project and took only a few breaks. As each day wrapped up, we walked around the house and he showed me the work that had been completed for the day. If there were any problems, he would jot them down and resolve them immediately.

The quality of Chris' work is outstanding. The final product looks amazing and I know it is going to last. Chris power washed the area before starting, and then he caulked gaps in the wood, and prepped the surface by scraping, sanding and priming the areas with failing paint.

Chris was a joy to work with. He had a strong work ethic and was very polite and friendly. He was always smiling, despite a rainy month that made his painting job extra challenging.

We've hired a lot of people to work on our house. Without a doubt, Chris Hamilton was the best worker and kindest person to have around.

Hire him!

Sincerely,

Linda Thomas