

College Works Painting Reference Letter
Ralph and Sheila Muller
1742 Mohawk Circle
Salt Lake City, UT 84108

We contracted with Joshua Benson and College Works Painting for a job repainting the north side of our three-story house on a slope that we knew would be very challenging for anyone. In our initial meeting with Josh, he asked us specific questions about the factors that were most important to us. We wanted quality and durability in the paint, and we expected the painters to be efficient and to do the job safely. We understood that since the painters are college students who would be adding to their work experience, they would be responsible and do the job well. Josh was very thorough and professional and wrote us a complete contract. He stayed in contact in the weeks before the onset of the job and reviewed details with us as necessary.

June 7, 2008

College Works Painting
1682 Langley Avenue
Irvine, CA 92614

We contracted with Joshua Benson and College Works Painting for a job repainting the north side of our three-story house on a slope that we knew would be very challenging for anyone. In our initial meeting with Josh, he asked us specific questions about the factors that were most important to us. We wanted quality and durability in the paint, and we expected the painters to be efficient and to do the job safely. We understood that since the painters are college students who would be adding to their work experience, they would be responsible and do the job well. Josh was very thorough and professional and wrote us a complete contract. He stayed in contact in the weeks before the onset of the job and reviewed details with us as necessary.

All prep work to the surface (scraping, masking, and power-washing) was carefully carried out. As manager, Josh arranged to have two workers on the job all the time, and he returned regularly to check on their progress. The entire job, which entailed a fair amount of moving ladders and included some painstaking painting of the trim and fascia, was well organized and completed in a timely manner, even with unexpected rainy weather.

The house looks great with the new paint. We are very satisfied with our experience of working with Josh, who demonstrates outstanding business skills, and we recommend College Works Painting without reservation for excellent work at a reasonable price.

Sincerely,

Ralph and Sheila Muller
1742 Mohawk Circle
Salt Lake City, UT 84108

June 7, 2008

College Works Painting
1682 Langley Avenue
Irvine, CA 92614

We contracted with Joshua Benson and College Works Painting for a job repainting the north side of our three-story house on a slope that we knew would be very challenging for anyone. In our initial meeting with Josh, he asked us specific questions about the factors that were most important to us. We wanted quality and durability in the paint, and we expected the painters to be efficient and to do the job safely. We understood that since the painters are college students who would be adding to their work experience, they would be responsible and do the job well. Josh was very thorough and professional and wrote us a complete contract. He stayed in contact in the weeks before the onset of the job and reviewed details with us as necessary.

All prep work to the surface (scraping, masking, and power-washing) was carefully carried out. As manager, Josh arranged to have two workers on the job all the time, and he returned regularly to check on their progress. The entire job, which entailed a fair amount of moving ladders and included some painstaking painting of the trim and fascia, was well organized and completed in a timely manner, even with unexpected rainy weather.

The house looks great with the new paint. We are very satisfied with our experience of working with Josh, who demonstrates outstanding business skills, and we recommend College Works Painting without reservation for excellent work at a reasonable price.

Sincerely,