From: Malexanderpfs@aol.com

We were contacted by Jourdan Miller concerning painting our house. After a brief explanation of what College Works was about, we set an appointment. Jourdan came to our house and presented us with information concerning the complete process, including written information, photographs of previous houses painted by College Works, and after an appraisal, the purposed cost of the job.

Jourdan came to our house and presented us with information concerning the complete process, including written information, photographs of previous houses painted by College Works, and after an appraisal, the purposed cost of the job. We came to an agreement, and an approximate date was set. While waiting for the approximate start date, Jourdan contacted us several times to answer any questions, and to establish an exact date. On the set start date, Jourdan and two painters (Scott and Quang) showed up on schedule, and began the process. The complete job was finished on schedule, in a professional manner.

We are very satisfied with the outcome, and would highly recommend Jourdan Miller and his crew to anyone wishing to renew the look on their home. College Works, Works!

Sincerely,
