

College Works Painting Reference Letter
Carolyn Risch
5641 N. Placita Amanecer
Tucson, AZ 85718

We were very impressed with the conscientious job Andy Lincowski did managing our house painting. He was very thorough, was there every day making sure his crew had everything they needed, and that the job was progressing as it should. He was always available to us for questions and walked with us every evening to view the progress of the job and look for things that needed to be done. He had a good rapport with his crew, treated them very well, and made sure that they were well supplied so that they could keep working at a steady pace. He was also good at showing the crew how to do things, such as spraying the oil stain that they had never done before, and he was there every day helping them clean up and put away the equipment.

June 16, 2004

Carolyn Risch
5641 N. Placita Amanecer
Tucson, AZ 85718

Dear College Works,

We were very impressed with the conscientious job Andy Lincowski did managing our house painting. He was very thorough, was there every day making sure his crew had everything they needed, and that the job was progressing as it should. He was always available to us for questions and walked with us every evening to view the progress of the job and look for things that needed to be done. He had a good rapport with his crew, treated them very well, and made sure that they were well supplied so that they could keep working at a steady pace. He was also good at showing the crew how to do things, such as spraying the oil stain that they had never done before, and he was there every day helping them clean up and put away the equipment.

I would definitely hire College Works again and have already recommended Andy and his crew to a friend.

Sincerely,

June 16, 2004

Carolyn Risch
5641 N. Placita Amanecer
Tucson, AZ 85718

Dear College Works,

We were very impressed with the conscientious job Andy Lincowski did managing our house painting. He was very thorough, was there every day making sure his crew had everything they needed, and that the job was progressing as it should. He was always available to us for questions and walked with us every evening to view the progress of the job and look for things that needed to be done. He had a good rapport with his crew, treated them very well, and made sure that they were well supplied so that they could keep working at a steady pace. He was also good at showing the crew how to do things, such as spraying the oil stain that they had never done before, and he was there every day helping them clean up and put away the equipment.

I would definitely hire College Works again and have already recommended Andy and his crew to a friend.

Sincerely,