

College Works Painting Reference Letter
Janet Morales

The purpose of this letter to express my pleasure for a 'job well done' by the College Works Painters in the exterior painting of my house last week.

August 10, 2008

To whom it may concern,

The purpose of this letter to express my pleasure for a 'job well done' by the College Works Painters in the exterior painting of my house last week.

Ryan Roach was very thorough and professional in his original estimate, throughout the job and in the final wrap-up of the job.

Josh Rack as crew chief and Carey Thaggard did a careful and complete job with the painting. They paid good attention to detail and made sure small problems were ironed out to my satisfaction.

I would recommend College Works Painters to anyone and feel that the price was very fair.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

The purpose of this letter is to express my pleasure for a 'job well done' by the College Works Painters in the exterior painting of my house last week.

Ryan Roach was very thorough and professional in his original estimate, throughout the job and in the final wrap-up of the job.

Josh Peck as crew chief and Corey Thaggard did a careful and complete job with the painting.

They paid good attention to detail and made sure small problems were ironed out to my satisfaction.

I would recommend College Works Painters to anyone and feel that the price was very fair.

Sincerely,
