On June 9, 2005, College Works employees power washed my two story colonial home and my deck.

To whom it may concern;

On June 9, 2005, College Works employees power washed my two story colonial home and my deck.

The team leader did a good job coordinating the effort ahead of time. She came out twice to walk around the property with me, once prior to the estimate, and a second time before the job was done to ensure that the work would be done to my specifications.

They spent extra time cleaning the problem areas that I had pointed out. The work was done in the time frame that was quoted to me when the contract was signed. I am completely satisfied with College Works and the job that was done.
