On June 7, 2008 we contracted with Scott Sundblom, who represented College Works Painting, to paint the metal railing on our deck. We discussed all aspects of the job, expressing our desires as to quality of work and materials to be used. We found Scott to be very congenial and helpful as he explained the procedures used.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On June 7, 2008 we contracted with Scott Sundblom, who represented College Works Painting, to paint the metal railing on our deck. We discussed all aspects of the job, expressing our desires as to quality of work and materials to be used. We found Scott to be very congenial and helpful as he explained the procedures used.

On June 22, 2008 the workmen arrived as promised and proceeded to prepare the area. We observed that they were thorough and diligent in their labors. They were careful of the surrounding plants and area so that when the job was completed we found their work to be excellent.

We would recommend this company to friends seeking painting contractors. Though our project was comparatively small, we were impressed with all aspects of their work.
