

College Works Painting Reference Letter
Anne and Robert Headley
University Park, MD

We have just completed a painting job by College Works.com, and are very satisfied with the results. Our crew leader, Dwayne McFarlane, was courteous and helpful in every possible way.

June 29, 2004

To whom it may concern:

We have just completed a painting job by College Works.com, and are very satisfied with the results. Our crew leader, Dwayne McFarlane, was courteous and helpful in every possible way. He communicated clearly, keeping us informed as to what was happening.

We also enjoyed getting to know the painters themselves, Chris and Alex. Both are exceedingly polite and intelligent. They stayed focused on their work, and rarely took breaks, even in the heat of the day.

There were delays in the project, which went over the time initially estimated, but that was mainly due to the weather. We had rain nearly every afternoon, which cut into their productive time. The impressive thing is that the crew hung in there, coming back day after day to get done what they could.

At the end of every workday, Dwayne supervised a complete clean-up. Once we even saw him cleaning up in the midst of a heavy downpour.

We believe the price was fair for what needed to be done.

This crew is young and enthusiastic about their work. You will find them very pleasant to be around.

Sincerely,

Anne and Robert Headley
University Park, MD

June 29, 2004

To whom it may concern:

We have just completed a painting job by College Works.com, and are very satisfied with the results. Our crew leader, Dwayne McFarlane, was courteous and helpful in every possible way. He communicated clearly, keeping us informed as to what was happening.

We also enjoyed getting to know the painters themselves, Chris and Alex. Both are exceedingly polite and intelligent. They stayed focused on their work, and rarely took breaks, even in the heat of the day.

There were delays in the project, which went over the time initially estimated, but that was mainly due to the weather. We had rain nearly every afternoon, which cut into their productive time. The impressive thing is that the crew hung in there, coming back day after day to get done what they could.

At the end of every workday, Dwayne supervised a complete clean-up. Once we even saw him cleaning up in the midst of a heavy downpour.

We believe the price was fair for what needed to be done.

This crew is young and enthusiastic about their work. You will find them very pleasant to be around.

Sincerely,

Anne and Robert Headley
University Park, MD