Dependable, informative and responsible come to mind when I think of Laura Anthony.

To Whom It May Concern:

Dependable, informative and responsible come to mind when I think of Laura Anthony.

Laura and a young gentleman came to our home in March of 2005 representing College Works Painting. We were interested in having the side of our house power washed because of a mildew problem. They gave us two estimates, one for the side of our house only and the other for the entire house. They were very informative about the power washing and explained the entire process. They answered all our questions and concerns. We decided to employ them and paid a deposit for just the side of the house. They were to get back to us in June when their school was in summer session.

In May Laura called us and set up the appointment. She kept us abreast of every step of the procedure, calling frequently if they were delayed or if there was another problem. When she and her co-worker, Lisa arrived for the job, they were efficient in handling the ladder and doing the application. They were very heedful of our satisfaction. They did a wonderful job.

We were pleased with the job, but also the responsibility and professionalism that Laura displayed not only in presentation, but also in the final product. No doubt she is learning a great deal this summer in running a business and managing the people who work for her. We commend her for her willingness to tackle a difficult field of endeavor.
